

Paul Harris

Let's talk about how to unify all people peacefully. We can follow Pierre Teilhard de Chardin, who said, "Love alone is capable of uniting living beings in such a way as to complete and fulfill them, for it alone takes them and joins them by what is deepest in themselves." We can discuss the world as it is now and how it may become during the remaining years of the 21st century. We can explore the kind of world, country, city, community, and family we might want. We can also examine ourselves, including who we are now and who we would like to become.

I graduated from Harvard College in 1971 with a BA in Philosophy & Mathematics. For more than 50 years, I have enjoyed studying and teaching philosophy, religion, and spirituality, including the 2,400-year-old Chinese classic, the Tao Te Ching.

My career was in the Bond & Corporate Finance Group of John Hancock Financial Services. I was on the Transportation Team helping to manage a $3 billion airline portfolio secured by large commercial aircraft. I was a charter member of the International Team during a time when the group's investment portfolio went from being in 3 countries to 45 countries. I also participated in the development of business, investment, and organizational design and strategy.
